BIG CIRCUS COMING.

Ringling Brothers Will Be in Indianapolis Next Wednesday.

Wednesday next is Ringlings' circus day in Indianapolis. The circus is a great American institution, and when it may be seen in all its glory under the trademark of Ringling Brothers, the crowd may be de pended upon to make the most of it.

The Ringling Brothers' shows are now conceded to be the greatest of all enterploits. One thousand and forty-three people champion bareback riders are William De Van, John Rooney, Cecil Lowanda, Elena Ryland and Lizzie Rooney.

What might be called a separate circus are the high-air features of the big programme Ringling Brethers supply in their wonderful bill of the present season. Bicycle riding on lofty wires, laughable mid-air comedy episodes, dare-devil dives and somersaults, thrilling feats of balancing and flying at dizzy heights, and almost every conceivable form of novel and startling aerial achievements compose this division of the show. Millie Turnous, Nettie Carroll, Bertha Dorian, Julian Tybell, Emeline Fredericks, the Flying Fishers and the Dacoma family are the principals carrying out these amazing features opening of the Republican national convenwith prayer, and who has been selected for this position because he filled a similar position in the Republican party's first convention, that of 1856. At that time Dr. Levy was one of two clergymen in Philadelphia who were in full sympathy with the ideas of the Republican party and had the necessary moral and physical courage to say so. The other clergyman was Dr. Rood, a distinguished Presbyterian divine. In discussing his appointment yesterday at his residence, No. 3913 Baring street, Dr. Levy said: "I see by the dispatches from Washington, published this morning. that I have been selected by the executive committee of the Republican national committee to offer the prayer at the opening of the coming convention. I have not been so notified by Chairman Hanna or Colonel Dick, but, assuming that the Washington dispatches are correct, I shall probably receive an official notification within a day or two. I will undoubtedly accept the post, and will esteem it an honor to be of service to the party I have been a member of since his daughter in Lafayette, has returned

> STORY OF 1856 RECALLED. "It was in 1856 in that very convention that slavery received its first mortal blow," he said as he took up the chronological recital of the events leading up to the nomination of Fremont and Dayton. "The country was then in its darkest days, and the facts brought out in the campaign that ended in the November following that convention eventually elected Lincoln President. The Republican party then and there organized into a national body, came out boldly for principles that any patriot could support, but which were withal extremely

Many and many a time they spoke at the peril of their lives, but they aroused the Shepherd. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd left impeople, and the fact that their nominees mediately for Decatur, Ill., where they will Fremont and Dayton, polled 2,150,000 votes against 1,800,000 for Buchanan and 875,000 for Millard Fillmore shows how well their 'campaign of education and humanity' was

> "No man who attended that convention Musical Fund Hall could forget an incident of it. Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, presided over the turbulent body and used an ordinary carpenter's mallet for a gavel. He called upon me 'to ask the Almighty God to watch over this convention and guide it in its labors."

"An instant before I raised my hand in prayer I doubt if a rifle shot could have been heard in the hall, but before I had uttered a word every tongue was silent and no prayer of mine was ever received

SOME NOTABLE DELEGATES. "There were over 1,000 duly accredited delegates in attendance. Thurlow Weed, Horace Greeley, Simon Cameron and Charles Sumner were the leading spirits on the ground, but Abraham Lincoln and Wil-Mrs. Caroline Cook. of Cumberland, is liam H. Seward were potent factors in the shaping up of the work. I think Weed, Greeley and Seward drafted the resolutions that were accepted as the first platform of the Republican party. I recall two paragraphs which read: 'We deny the authority of Congress, of a territorial legislature, of any individual or association of individuals to give legal existence to slavery in any Territory of the United States, while the present Constitution shall be maintained;' and, 'The Constitution confers Mrs. Lawrence Thompson visited relatives upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States for their in Danville during the early part of last government, and that, in that exercise of this power, it is both the right and the duty of Congress to prohibit in the Terri- prices: tories those twin relics of barbarism-po lygamy and slavery.'

"It is a singular coincidence that the car didates to be nominated next month will be day, ofter spending several weeks in Brooklyn. called upon to reaffirm a portion of this very platform, in so far as it refers to the government of the Philippines. "The active candidates for the presidential nomination before the convention of

1856 were Colonel Fremont, Speaker Banks and Judge McLean. The logical candidate was William H. Seward, but, acting upon the advice of Thurlow Weed, Mr. Seward declined the nomination, anticipating an undisputed nomination four years later. "There was quite a contest for the vice presidency. The most conspicuous candidates were William L. Dayton, Abraham Lincoln, Charles Sumner, General Banks and David Wilmont. It is fortunate that Mr. Lincoln was not then nominated, as he would have suffered defeat, and nobody can imagine what would have followed the election of somebody else four years

"The call for the convention was addressed to the people of the United States, without regard to past political differences or divisions,' who were opposed to the repeal of the Missouri compromise, to the administration of President Pierce, to the extension of slavery into free territory, and in favor of the admission of Kansas as a free State. A state of civil war then existed in Kansas, and the seeds of rebellion were being sown in the South. Fremont was defeated and Buchanan elected. am satisfied that there would never have been a civil war in this country had Fre-

This elementary truth on which the whole universe is based proves itself again in the bicycle trade. A few years ago the innocent public could easily be fooled into buying some cheapmade wheel for a "high-grade" machine. Not so to-day! The average citizen has learned and knows what he wants. Result: The disappearance of the bogus nameplate bicycles and the triumphant victory of the standard machines. On top of all of them stands the "CLEVELAND BICYCLE." the eader of the world.

Just notice them on the street, these flying, graceful wheels, and gladness that you have one, or desire to get one, or regre that you failed to buy one will steal into your heart, just as the case may be. you entertain the thought to buy this season, don't fail to call at cland store, 307 Massachusetts avenue, and see the most complete line of
